Rural landless employment guarantee

*36. SHRI KAILASH PATI MISHRA:
SHR? SHANKER SINH
YAGHELA;

Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government took a decision about 3 years ago that at least one member ot' each landless labour family would be provided employment for IOO days in a year under the Rural Landless Employment Guarantee Programme; if so, the results achieved so far, State-wise;

fb) the average earnings of each member of such families per day;

(c) the number of landless labour families and the percentage out of them who have been benefited under this scheme in each State/Union Territory; and

(d) the average annual expenditure incurred by Government on each such family under this programme?

THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI G, S. DHILLON): (a) to (d) Midway during the Sixth Plan the Rural Landless Employment Guarantee Programme was started With tbe dual objectives of expanding employment opportunities in rural areas and providing sharper focus on the landless labour households which constitute the hardcore of the peobelow poverty line. One of the basic objectives of ibis programme is to improve and expand employment opportunities for rural landless with a view to providing guarantee of employment to at least one member of every rural landless labour household upto IOO days in a year. When the programme was launched, it was expected that some time would be taken in ihe formulation of projects of works, sanction of these projects and in undertaking other administrative measures for implementing the programme. The concept of Guarantee could not be operationalised. The S\ih Plan target under the programtherefore, fixed only in terms of of generation of 360 million mandays in the Sixth Plan, 262.75 million mandays were generated. The provision for employment to a member of individual landless labour family could not be monitored.

The Seventh Plan document states while implementing the programme in the Seventh Plan period, efforts would also be made to implement limited guarantee for providing 80 to IOO days employment to the landless labour households through this programme. Accordingly, enforcement of guarantee has been started on pilot scheme basis. Under the scheme, it has been suggested to the State/Union Territories to introduce employment guarantee cards on some approved work/works jn each RLEGP project and monitor the provision of employment on the basis of these cards. This approach may be expanded to all the areas after observing the success it achieves.

The target in the year 1985-86 was 205.73 million mandays against which the Generation of employment was 230.10 million mandays.
